Questions

GYMagine's front desk staff need to calculate monetary amounts on a regular basis. Please perform the following computations.

Question 1:

A mom would like to pay for four classes for her daughter. Each class costs $10.00. She is also receiving a 5% discount, what would her total payment amount be (without tax).

Question 2:

A girl has a $100.00 gift certificate she received for her birthday. She wants to use her certificate on a leotard which costs $24.99 (tax is 10.4%), she also wants to buy a snack for herself and each of her five friends (each snack costs $1.25, tax is already included. What is the remaining balance on her gift card?

Question 3:

It is a busy day at GYMagine, and there are many people waiting in line. One woman has been waiting quite a while (but is not at the front of the line). She becomes agitated and cuts in front of several people to complain. She insists that she is in "more of a hurry" than the other customers, as she would simply like to purchase a T-shirt. What would you say to her to handle the situation appropriately?

Questions

Question 1:

What interests you about coaching gymnastics?

Question 2:

During a class, one of your participants who is 6 years old refuses to pay attention. They are running around and jumping on equipment that are "off limits." You have tried to call them back to class to participate like the others, but they are ignoring your instruction. What would you do next?

Question 3:

A parent approaches you after class and demands to know why her daughter cannot yet properly do a cartwheel. She insists that after the three classes her daughter has taken since joining GYMagine, she should be able to do this skill. The mom says she is considering taking her daughter out of gymnastics because she is "obviously not very good at it." How would you respond?
